EXTERIOR

Porcelain slabs have historically been about performance, strength, functional and aesthetic beauty. Given their versatility and qualities, they are at the forefront of design and construction in modern homes and offices. At Exoteric Surfaces, we provide the highest quality thin porcelain slabs for both residential and commercial projects to meet your needs for style and durability. Our porcelain slabs not only have a high resistance to scratching but can withstand high heat and cold better than other materials due to which they serve as an ideal material for elevation, floors, walls, washrooms etc. Choose from a range of patterns and get a realistic marble like look.
